Pro Per mean self representation No Attorney.

1) So I would enabled the Party # / Attorney Frame if the Attorney box is checked for the Party #. See example above for Party 1.

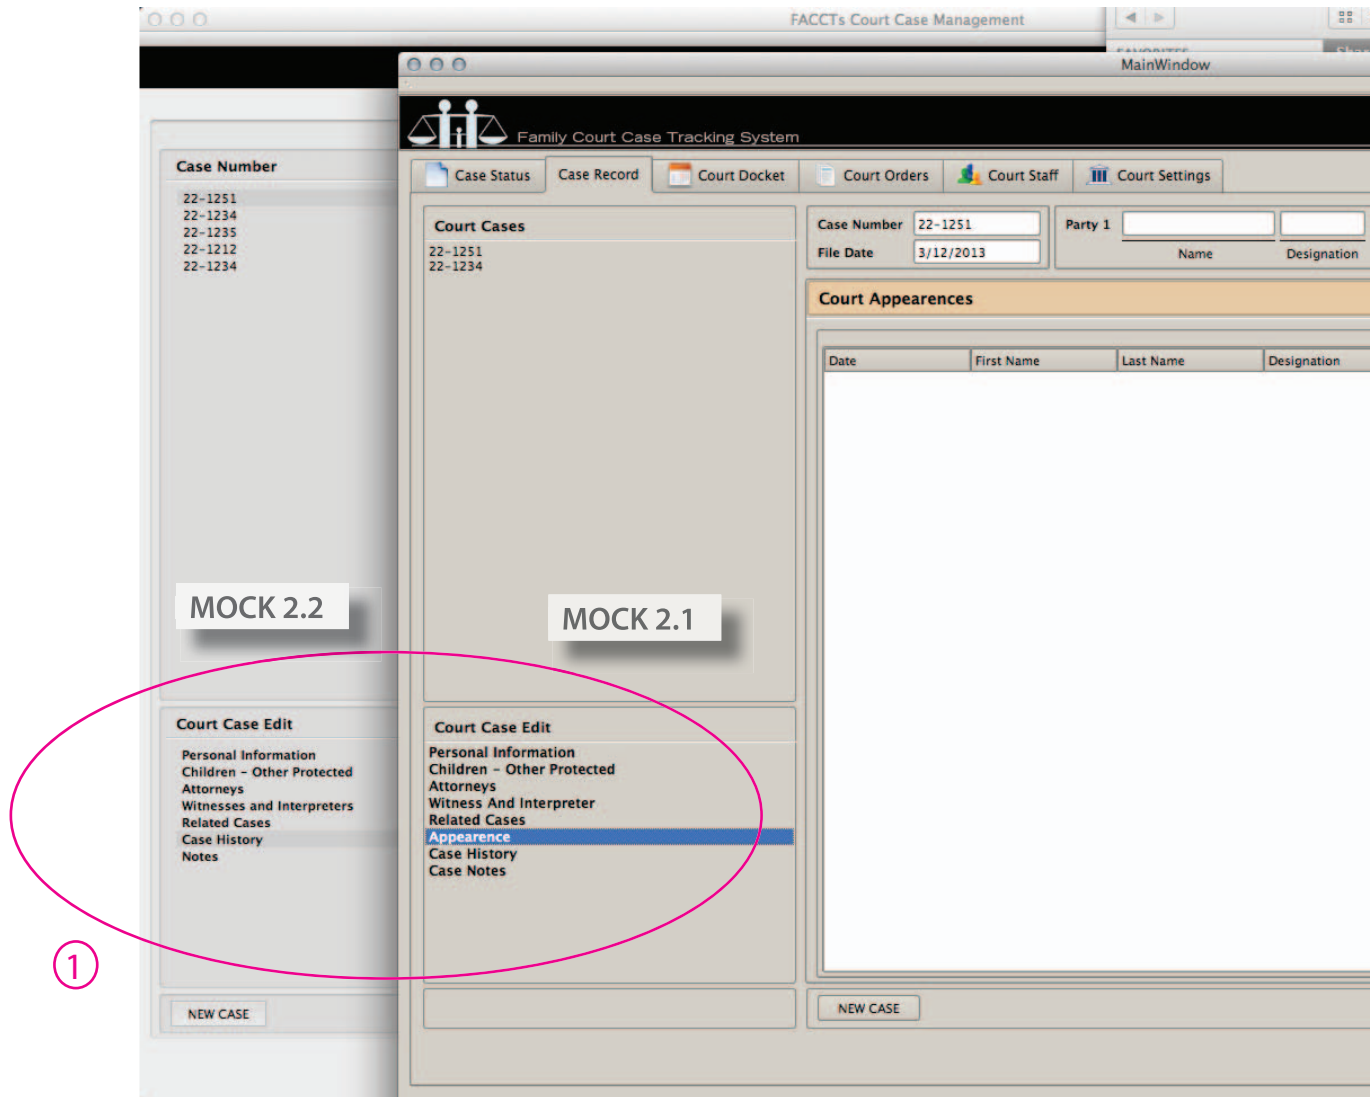

2) Example 2 shows the Party 2 / Attorney box not checked thus the Frame for Party 2 is not enabled for data entry.

Note: Could change attorney status later so retain data but disable it. Clear it might be problem if attorney is brought back later.

3) Children cannot represent themselves, so there is not option for Pro Per.

4) Children are represented by Party 1, or Attorney for Party 1 so the Same As Party 1 Check copies the Party 1 Attorney to Children as well.

Case Record / Appearances Screen

The Appearance of the Party is tracked on the Case Record / Case History screen. So it was redundant, when I analyzed Mock 2.1.

1) Next version of MOCK will not have it.

Next Page has the Case History Panel.

NEW CASE SAVE

Case History will track Date, Party Appearance and Orders. See the new Case History Panel / Table above . This table is read only DATA and the WORK FLOW is at the right. The EVENTS are (NEW, HEARING, DROPPED, DISMISSED, REISSUED and MERGED). The Party Appearance data will come from the Court Orders / Appearance Frame/Signal-Slot at each hearing. The Order Data will come from the Court Orders / Print Signal-Slot at each hearing. MERGED comes from the Case Record / Related Case Function Signal-Slot. DROPPED and DISMISSED comes from the Court Docket / Drop and Dismiss Function Signals-Solts.

Case Record / Case History Screen

The screenshots illustrate the FACCT's Court Case Management interface, showing the Case Record, Case History, and Court Orders sections. Red annotations highlight specific data points and flow between screens.

Case Record / Case History Screen (Top Left): This screen displays the Case Number (22-1251), Party 1 (Donna Rae Smith, Plaintiff), and Party 2 (Charles William Smith, Respondent). The Case History table shows events for 22-1251, including a hearing on 5/13/2013. A red box highlights the Party 1 Present, Party 1 Sworn, Party 1 Atty, Party 2 Present, Party 2 Sworn, and Party 2 Atty columns. A red arrow points from this box to the Court Orders section.

Court Orders Section (Top Right): This section displays the Court Orders for Case Number 22-1251. The DV110 - Temporary Restraining Order is highlighted. The Court Orders table shows the Order ID (DV110, DV130) and the Order Date (5/13/2013). A red box highlights the Order ID and Order Date columns. A red arrow points from this box to the Court Orders section.

Court Orders Section (Bottom Right): This section displays the Court Orders for Case Number 22-1251. The Court Orders table shows the Order ID (DV110, DV130) and the Order Date (5/13/2013). A red box highlights the Order ID and Order Date columns. A red arrow points from this box to the Court Orders section.

Confirm Drop Case Dialog (Bottom Center): This dialog box prompts the user to confirm dropping a case. It includes a warning icon and the text: "DROP CASE - CONFIRMATION. You are about to DROP this case and remove it from active status and all future dockets." The dialog has buttons for DROP, CANCEL, and REISSUE.

Calendar (Bottom Left): A calendar for June 2013 is shown, with the date 5/13/2013 highlighted. A red arrow points from this date to the Court Orders section.

1. The Party Appearance data will come from the Court Orders / Case Info Frame Signal-Slot at each hearing.
2. The Order Data will come from the Court Orders / Print Signal-Slot at each hearing.
3. DROPPED, DISMISSED, REISSUED events come from the Court Docket / Drop and Dismiss Function Signals-Solts, through a CONFIRM.ui.
